

So, when Amy got a part in the school production, the family wasn't surprised.

"I'm going to be a stick insect," she announced exuberantly during dinner. "I get to do the stick insect dance all by myself! And I'm the very first one on!" Mum and Dad smiled. That was so like Amy. "And Josh is going to make my costume," she added smugly.

Everybody looked at Josh, who just sat there nodding. Josh was good with his hands and often spent hours in the garage working on complicated and elaborate projects. A stick insect costume would be easy for him to make.

That's great,
Josh!
